

Juan Castillo (42) became the second fatal victim of the incident registered at the Cofco plant in Puerto San Martín.

An operator who had been injured by the explosion at the Cofco cereal plant, located in the Gran Rosario, died last night, bringing the number of fatalities to two.

Juan Castillo, who was 42 years old and was in intensive care at the British Sanatorium in Rosario since Tuesday, when the explosion occurred in a cell of the Chinese state cereal plant, which killed an operator identified as Sunday. Ramón Giménez (61).

Meanwhile, eight other wounded remained in the British hospital today, where medical authorities will later provide a part with details about their health status, the source told Telam.

The justice of San Lorenzo is in charge of the investigation for the explosion at the plant located in Puerto General San Martín, 40 kilometers from Rosario.