

Veracruz port accident leaves three dead

Eirinet Gómez, correspondent | Friday, Dec 13, 2019 7:22 PM

Three dead people, one seriously injured, and six people with nervous breakdown left an accident inside the Veracruz port enclosure. Photo Sergio Hernández-Vega

Veracruz, Ver. Three dead people, one seriously injured, and six people with nervous breakdown left an accident on Friday afternoon, inside the Veracruz port.

Around 3:00 p.m., a structure collapsed, and it fell on workers who were performing operations at the site.

So far, the Integral Port Administration (APIVER) has not issued information about the accident. The information known so far was provided by personnel working inside the premises.

At the site of the accident three workers died, one injured was taken to a city clinic. And six people were treated for nervous breakdown.

State Civil Protection confirmed that it received a report of an incident, at the Port Precinct, but since it is a federal space controlled by the Integral Port Administration (APIVER), it will be this authority that addresses the matter.